

Explore our colorful past

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact Information:

Barbara Bishop, Marketing & Communications Director
BBishop@greenwichhistory.org
203-869-6899, Ext. 12

Greenwich Historical Society Receives Grant for Hamilton Avenue Magnet School-Museum Partnership

Cos Cob, CT, August 11, 2014—Of the many visitors to CT Open House Day at the Greenwich Historical Society this June, at least two young visitors from Hamilton Avenue Magnet School already knew their way around Bush-Holley Historic Site and were bursting their buttons to show their families. They were some of the 286 students from Hamilton Avenue Magnet School who visited the Greenwich Historical Society as a result of a grant from Fairfield County Community Foundation (FCCF) in support of the Hamilton Avenue School-Museum partnership. This year's grant of $5,000 awarded to the Greenwich Historical Society by the FCCF in June will continue to defray the cost of Hamilton Avenue student visits to the Historical Society during the 2014/15 school year. It will also enable the Historical Society to arrange for working artists and educators to conduct classroom workshops at Hamilton Avenue School that explore topics touched upon during site tours. The program exposes children in all grades to the enjoyment and creation of art and aims to build a foundation for life-long learning and appreciation of local history. For many students, Bush-Holley House is the first museum they have ever visited, and learning about its place in Greenwich history helps to connect them with the community.

The culmination of each school year's program is a June reception for friends and families that features an exhibition of remarkable self-portraits painted by fourth graders and elaborate class quilts illustrating memories of Bush-Holley House made up of panels created by third graders. As parents, siblings and grandparents peruse the artwork lining the walls of the Vanderbilt Education Center, proud students point out their creations and discuss the merits of each other's works of art. Fifth-grade junior docents, trained in inquiry-based interpretation, lead tours of Bush-Holley House throughout the evening. In fact, by the time students reach the fifth grade, most are very much at home on the site and eager to talk about their favorite rooms and works of art.

The Fairfield County Community Foundation promotes the growth of community and regional philanthropy to improve the quality of life throughout Fairfield County. Individuals, families, corporations and organizations can establish charitable funds or contribute to existing funds. The Foundation also provides philanthropic advisory services, and develops and leads initiatives to tackle critical community issues. It is in compliance with the Council on Foundations' national standards for community foundations. The Foundation has awarded more than $168 million in grants to nonprofits in Fairfield County and beyond. For more information, visit www.fccfoundation.org.

To learn more about the Greenwich Historical Society, visit www.greenwichhistory.org.

Fifth-grade junior docents ask fellow students questions about Bush-Holley house and its history as part of inquiry-based interpretation.

Students take advantage of the warm weather to paint plein-air, following in the footsteps of the artists who were part of the Cos Cob art colony.